While the traditional educational system focuses on what is taught, OBC emphasizes what is learned, which is a student-centric model.

Our College emphasizes outcome-based education (OBE) which gets reflected in the curriculum, (designed by the University), teaching and learning process, and the assessment of students. Experiential learning, participative learning collaborative learning method logic, and problem-solving are to be adopted in the curriculum which includes tours and excursions, projects, internships, an Entrepreneurship development camp an entrepreneurship awareness camp, and workshops. The College offers programs at UG and PG levels as designed by the affiliating University. Each program has a well-defined program Outcome (PO), Course Outcome (CO), Programme Specific Outcome (PSO) which are designed such that these are mapped and aligned with program outcomes, PSO, and CO of NEP policies. The curriculum is designed with due consideration to macro-economic and social needs at large to go with the spirit of NEP. All courses are designed with outcomes centered on cognitive abilities namely remembering understanding, applying, analyzing, evaluating, and creating. Apart from the domain-specific skills, learning outcomes at all levels ensure social responsibility and ethics, as well as entrepreneurial skills so that students contribute proactively to the economic environment and social being of the nation. After students' evaluation, all attainments of CO'S, PO'S, and PSOs are measured and an action plan is written to improve the respective attainment in the future.

6.1.2 - The effective leadership is visible in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management.

With the advent of postmodernity very concept of centralization in governance is decaying gradually. As modern poet yeats have rightly pointed out that "The things have fallen apart the center cannot hold".With the growing modernity, democratic institutions realized that leadership and decision-making create a kind of anarchy when it is over-centralized. So the postmodern society started rethinking and taking the institutions as a new text to be deconstructed in making them more decentralized and participative than before. With this revolutionary change, our college also reflects its leadership and decision-making more decentralized and participative by forming various committees at the large levels by shifting the power center more democratically.

Furthermore, as a Government College, we constitute JanbhagidarSamiti as guided by the Higher Education Department of the Chhattisgarh Government making the institution more locale. The locally elected member of the state assembly is given the power to be a member and president of this samiti taking different persons from different societies as a member of that committee and making the institutional decision-making more participative and democratic. This committee not only take vital administrative decisions but also play a significant role in financial matter also.
